2. What is the Vitalizer Plus?

The Hexagonal water generate system (Model: Vitalizer Plus) applies the principles of nature - scientifically, to create a water with special life-enhancing properties. Using the principles of physical and electromagnetic energy, the Vitalizer Plus creates a living, dynamic water that improves the function and homeostasis of the body. This machine have 8 kinds of amazing function, it makes up-grade your drinking water.

1. Make Hexagonal structure water
2. Oxygen occurrence in the water
3. Minerals occurrence in the water
4. Water alkalization
5. Make micro-clustered water
6. Make strong water structure
7. Exclusion Chlorine in the tap water
8. Adds generative ions in the water
9. Make energy water

3. Why are we so unhealthy?

Poor food choices, Stressful lifestyle, Not drinking enough pure, healthy, harmonious and energetic water. Lack of exercise. Disease-targeted pharmaceutical approach to medicine. Hundreds of known environmental carcinogens which often mimic estrogen. Toxic, sick and sluggish bowel.

4. Water related to human body

Human body is approximately 70% water by weight ;

- With 99.5% of all molecules being water,...
- With our brain being 74% water,...
- Our blood being 83% water,...
- Our bones being 22% water,...
- Our kidneys being 82% water,...
- Our muscles being 75% water?
- 10 billion molecules fit onto the head of a pin...
- Normal tap or distilled water does not hydrate cells efficiently...

About 95 pounds of a 150 pound man is water,...protein and stored fat together account for another 50 pounds, the rest is minerals, glycogen (blood sugar), and other substances, such as nucleic acids,.

5. What is Hexagonal micro-clustered water?

Hexagonal micro-clustered water is a ring of six molecules that share common hydrogen bonds. The six-sided shape enters cells easily, like a master key opening many doors. The efficiency and speed of Hexagonal micro-clustered water is due to the design and shape of the water molecules, which are an optimal match to cell receptors. Micro sized hexagonal water clusters fit through the hexagonal channels of cell membranes and into the cell itself. This process hydrates, carries nutrients into, and removes waste from cells.

6. How Does It Work?

It's quite simple, if you have a VITALIZER PLUS !

- Just pour drinking water (distilled water or mineral water) into the pitcher of the Vitalizer Plus
- And power it on.

- Select a running time (9, 18, 27 minute)
- Click the start button

And waiting 9 minutes, Amazingly energized, oxygenated and well-balanced PH level water will be ready for your health in a few minutes!

The powerful VORTEX created by the strong magnetic fields inside the water system, parallels the dynamic current flowing from streams and waterfalls, converts your poured drinking water into Hexagonal micro-clustered water containing high level of dissolved Oxygen energy.

VITALIZER PLUS applies the principles of nature scientifically to create water with special life-enhancing properties, without use of chemicals. Utilizing the principles of physical and electro-magnetic energy, VITALIZER PLUS creates living dynamic water of which improves the function and homeostasis to human body.

7. Well Researched

Scientific research from many studies found in the newly translated book "The Water Puzzle and the Hexagonal Key" makes a strong, well documented case for the observed presence of hexagonal water around healthy cells and organs and five sided or Penta water structures around cancer cells and sick organs. Magnetically produced hexagonal water is the most stable according to research, vs. structured water produced by ionizers.

8. Several functions performed by Hexagonal micro-clustered water

- Cellular hydration.

Water in the body is either clustered or bound to proteins or other substances. Bound water cannot get into cells. Most of the water or other liquids we drink do not enter cells very well. The six sided rings of Hexagonal micro-clustered water fit into cellular and sub-cellular membranes easily allowing water to flow into and out of cells.

- Transportation of nutrients.

Research shows that Hexagonal micro-clustered water potentates the effect of nutrients by a factor of six times. Much of the supplements and nutrients we consume never make it into the cell because bound water does not enter the cell. Hexagonal micro-clustered water was designed by nature to allow nutrients to "hitch a ride" into the cell by attaching themselves to the water rings.

- Removal of toxins and waste.

Detoxification is one of the most important paths to good health and long life. Again, it doesn't matter what detoxification methods you employ if the toxins cannot get out of the cell. Hexagonal micro-clustered water flushes toxins out of cells allowing them to maintain their proper functions without toxic interference. Hexagonal micro-clustered water is itself broken down by pollutants and free radicals so it is lost over time, a good reason to replenish it.

- Hexagonal micro-clustered water influences protein structure.

Hexagonal micro-clustered water surrounds proteins and keeps the proteins in the proper shape so they can function properly. Aging causes proteins to break down but Hexagonal micro-clustered water returns proteins to their proper shape and function.

- Hexagonal micro-clustered water converts proteins into "information wires."

The Hexagonal micro-clustered water that surrounds proteins acts like a radio and emits and receives high frequency signals that co-ordinate cells all over the body. It is what keeps the cells of the body orderly. Without Hexagonal micro-clustered water, cells cannot co-ordinate their activity with others. The signal is lost.

- Hexagonal micro-clustered water is critical to DNA expression.

Like proteins, the spiral of DNA, our body's genetic blueprint, has a column of Hexagonal micro-clustered water at its core. The vibration of the Hexagonal micro-clustered water vibrates the DNA and allows it to communicate its plan to other cellular components. Without Hexagonal micro-clustered water it cannot do so and the cell malfunctions.

- Hexagonal micro-clustered water corrects bad cell resonance.

Every cell vibrates to a particular pattern. When it is diseased, it emits an abnormal signal which can be detected by Magnetic Resonance Analysis. The resonant energy of Hexagonal micro-clustered water can counter or invert abnormal cell signals.

- Hexagonal micro-clustered water raises the energy of the cell.

The resonant energy in Hexagonal micro-clustered water charges up a cell much like a capacitor or battery. Cell capacitance is an indicator of cellular health.

9. How to keep it

The cold water was highly beneficial for the body and helpful for good digestion. Even though Hexagonal micro-clustered water can be stable at 37 degrees C. (body temperature), the optimal temperature for consumption is 5 degrees C (refrigeration temperature). At this temperature, the cluster is maintained in its tightest form and has the greatest stability prior to consumption.

Excessive heat and strong magnetic forces are the only things that can damage the structure of Hexagonal micro-clustered water created by VITALIZER PLUS. Critical temperatures are those above 60 degrees C. (130 degrees F.) If the water experiences temperatures above this threshold, it can no longer be considered to be "Hexagonal micro-clustered". If, on the other hand, Hexagonal micro-clustered water is exposed to high temperatures but not to the critical point, it can be revitalized by freezing to the slushy state and then refrigerated.

So, please keep Hexagonal micro-clustered water created by VITALIZER PLUS in cold storage, such as into a refrigerator or cool places and try to consume it at your earliest convenience. The structures of Hexagonal micro-clustered water created by VITALIZER PLUS can be lasting but fresh and cold status of hexagonal structured water contains a higher percentage for human body.

10. When is the best to drink it

For best results, keep beverage, Hexagonal micro-clustered water refrigerated before consuming. Do not use a metal, use plastic for measuring. The best times to take Hexagonal micro-clustered water are first thing in the morning and around noontime on an empty stomach. In order to receive maximum benefits, Hexagonal micro-clustered water should be taken either alone or with nutritional supplements. It should not be mixed with other liquids.

11. Consume and use it, not only for drinking

Hexagonal micro-clustered Water has the greatest energetic capacity. Consume and use this amazing water created by VITALIZER PLUS for cooking or washing, not only for drinking. This water has shown significant positive physiological responses in plant and animal growth.

15. Features of Hexagonal micro-clustered water

- It penetrates cells more rapidly.

The unit of Hexagonal micro-clustered water is smaller than ordinary water and the cluster (It looks like a lumped bunch of grapes) has unusual density. According to the study of scientists, the water of world widely famous long-lived villages has highly hexagonally-structured water. So to speak, it is in small water molecular units.

The size of the molecular clusters of water becomes smaller and is much more easily absorbed by every organ in the body. That means the activation of water. Smaller cluster units, as opposed to larger, are able to penetrate cells more rapidly. It is big clue to the importance of human's physiological function, having an overall effect on metabolism, nutrient absorption, waste removal, etc. By its antidotal and neutralizing action against all sorts of heavy metal, it facilitates metabolism of the human body, offering in such a way a curing effect against all sorts of illness. It is for health and the prevention of disease.

- It gives water taste.

Hexagonal micro-structured Water has no flavor and is colorless and odorless. However, Oxygen which is contained abundantly in Hexagonal micro-clustered water, gives water taste. People say that it has taste, tender to drink or no feeling of refusal. However, unhealthy person sometimes cannot distinguish it.

- It doesn't bring stomach problem, even though someone drank it a lot.

By excessive full of stomach, someone can suffer from it, when he drank lot of ordinary water. However, such problem doesn't happen, even though someone drank Hexagonal micro-structured water a lot. It is believed that micro-clustered water in small molecular units and it is absorbed easily into the digestive organs.

- It has fast heat conduction.

Hexagonal micro-clustered water consists in small water molecular units with fast movement. It also has huge energy. Therefore, it boils and freezes quickly, compare with ordinary water. Such characteristics of Hexagonal micro-clustered water, potentiality of energy and activation to cell show the significant roles in preserving and maintaining human health.

- It contributes to the health.

It is known that Hexagonal micro-clustered water which has smaller clusters in six sided rings structure can penetrate into human body rapidly and it is very effective to treatment for many illnesses and the prevention of disease.

- It has higher dissolved oxygen rate than ordinary water at any temperature.

Compare with ordinary water, it contains maximally dissolved oxygen. The dissolved oxygen in water stimulates the part of mucous membrane where blood stream of micro blood vessel, which is distributed densely, while it pass through stomach, small intestines and large intestines. It enhances efficiently removal of toxins, harmful gas and acidic waste. It promotes the cleaning of internal bowel and the purification of blood in human body.

- It supports increase of melted nutrients.

Minerals can be meaningful live elements to the cells, only when they are dissolved into body fluids or human blood. Not dissolved one becomes waste and expelled from human body without reaction. It is sometimes even harmful to human body and dissolved minerals in water only can act advantageous to human body.

Organic minerals inside of tea or food also can be helpful only by water and inorganic minerals can be supplied continuously by dissolved status into the water as a live element.

- It expels alcohol rapidly from human body.

Hexagonal micro-clustered water protects bowel from alcohol and expel resolved acidic materials (acetaldehyde), surrounding the outer surface of it rapidly from the body and it helps to get out of hangover promptly.

- It is alkaline water, similar to same balance of body fluids

- It supports nutrient absorption and waste removal within the cellular matrix of the body.

- It soaks nutrients out of a tea or a food very well

16. The method to drink Hexagonal micro-clustered water

The drinking of it slowly, being in easy mind, is mostly recommendable way. Exaggeratingly speaking, drink it just like “chew something.” Empty lots of water at a gulp could produce a quite contrary result, even though Hexagonal micro-clustered water is quite good for human body.

Being relaxed, drink cold Hexagonal micro-clustered water from time to time. You will be relieved the tension and the secretion of catecholamine, the hormone secretive by tension are not made any longer.

But, for the people who suffer from serious constipation, it is effective to drink it with a feeling of little faster pace. In case of healthy adult, it is recommendable to drink two cups of cold Hexagonal micro-clustered water on an empty stomach at dawn, one cup of cold one around 20 minutes before of each meal, and one cup of water before bed. Following this method will be much more helpful than a medicine for promoting nutrition.

By the medical effect of magnetically processed Hexagonal micro-clustered water, many types of disease can be curable without taking of medicine.
